Queyras Ski Touring

The Queyras Regional Park located south of Briançon is a beautiful, remote, unspoilt and quiet touring area. An absolute favourite with us for ski touring adventures.

Queyras Ski Tour – trip summary

The touring is varied and offers lift accessed tours or remote valley starts. There are many great summits to climb and the area holds the snow really well. After five trips to the area we have so far always been rewarded with powder to ski on many of the descents.

The Queyras has some lift infrastructure which gives access to some of the best tree skiing in the Alps through beautiful larch forests, ideal if there is a lot of snowfall and touring is limited due to conditions.

We usually book a cosy hotel in the main ski area which has a great little bar and a restaurant offering excellent evening meals often frequented by the locals. The hotel is a short walk from the lifts and the start of a number of tours or the tree skiing!

It is also possible to spend some time staying in and touring from the local mountain huts.

Please contact Richard to discuss your trip to this incredible touring venue.

Mountain Adventure Guides' Queyras Ski Touring trip is usually five or six days, but if time is limited, we can organise a trip of fewer days.

Queyras Ski Tour – is it for me?

This week offers exciting, sometimes challenging, days out ski touring and making some long and remote ski descents often in powder. Ski touring days are usually in the region of one to three hours of ascent.
